

Sending payments to us

ISA, JISA, Collective Investment Account (CIA), Collective Investment Bond (CIB), Collective Retirement Account (CRA)

Payments for CashHub savings are not covered in this document because the bank transfer details are unique to each investor and will be communicated during the application process. CashHub payments must be made to Bondsmith and not the Quilter bank accounts referenced below.

When sending payments for investments on our platform, it is important that the correct details are used.

Protecting your money is important to us, as well as being a regulatory requirement. The regulations differ according to the type of investment, so the way we treat each payment, and the bank accounts we use, also vary by investment type.

It is important to ensure that we have the correct controls in place so that the payments we receive are banked into the correct accounts, and to help us to continue to protect your money.

You can send us a payment in the following ways:
